The Sectional Door Introduction

Obsessively designed and exclusive to SSS Industrial Doors, our sectional garage door offers an impressive and unbeatable combination of high-end standard specifications, stunning product and colour choices. We Offer assurance that secure functionality will protect what you choose to store in your garage. Your home is a reflection of your style, and our sectional doors now provide that striking final touch to your design, sure to make even the most conservative neighbours gaze on enviously.

Superior Thermal Efficiency

Milanova doors focus on thermal conductivity. Milanova systems effectively eliminate heat loss in the most impacted areas of the door leaf, enabling the door to maintain an optimal temperature inside your garage.

Your Selection is Our Commitment

Color is the first aspect that captures our senses. Milanova sectional doors can be produced in any standard RAL or custom colour. When combined with a variety of panel textures, this offers homeowners countless options for a completely personalised design.

Performance and Security

Elevated standard safety specifications ensure that the Milanova delivers a complete solution when paired with automation for example the wireless wall switch, remote control, external wall receiver and more extras.

Introducing Sectional Doors

Design Efficiency

Sectional garage doors offer numerous advantages for homeowners, including a wider opening for easier car access. The door is fully sealed, ensuring highly effective insulation.

Customise It Your Way

We provide options in every detail, making the selection process effortless. You can specify panel designs, textures, glazing, and automation, all while matching colours as needed to fulfil your vision.

The Panel Door Promise

Carefully crafted to the highest standards, our products are designed with an ideal blend of aesthetics, functionality, durability, and security. This is our commitment from production to installation.

Challenging Tradition

Unwavering Commitment to Detail! From the very beginning, we have prioritised meticulous attention to detail. From initial conception to final design, these panel doors were developed as a collection of doors that redefine standard features, surpassing traditional specifications set by competitors. This dedication to detail, from the initial sketches to the manufacturing process, ensures that the final product meets your highest standards of satisfaction. It embodies a promise of exceptional quality, safety, and comfort throughout every stage of use. The SSS Panel Doors comply with EN 13241-1 as standard and proudly displays the mandatory CE marking for quality manufacturing.

Stamp of Approval

Experience the Assurance Yourself! Our panel garage doors are crafted exclusively from high-quality, durable materials designed for longevity. Each stage of production undergoes thorough inspections, with a strong emphasis on quality. The panel garage doors offer an additional layer of protection, ensuring that you, the customer, achieve complete satisfaction with a 12-month warranty for safe and reliable operation.

Theft Prevention

When closed, the panel door is engineered to safeguard what lies within. The automation adds extra resistance, preventing the door from being forced open. You can have peace of mind knowing that everything important to you is securely protected behind our panel doors.

- ✓ Secure & Safe
- ✓ Protection Against Unwanted Entry
- ✓ Walk Away With Confidence

Safety Comes First

Force monitoring guarantees that if any resistance is detected during operation, the automation recognizes abnormal pressure and reverses the door's direction, ensuring the safety of everyone and everything. Finger protection safeguards you and your loved ones by preventing fingers from getting pinched between the panels when the door opens and closes.

- ✓ Finger Protection
- ✓ Force Monitoring
- ✓ Safety First

Tension Springs

Excellence in Every Detail. Our door tension springs are engineered and crafted with both inner and outer springs. This dual design enhances safety, protecting your family, pets, and valuable belongings while preventing unwanted injuries or damage.

- ✓ Innovative Technology
- ✓ Family Protection
- ✓ Damage Protection

Track Systems

We offer custom solutions that extend to our track systems as well. Just like a door leaf, each track system is individually crafted to meet your specific needs. We provide solutions for any application, and our commitment to quality ensures that the system will operate effortlessly and smoothly, even in the most challenging environments.

Our sectional door system features side tension springs for doors up to 5500mm wide, eliminating the need for unsightly internal torsion spring systems.

Quality lies in the finest details. Our tracks are equipped with our patented "Smart Connection" system. Unlike many competitors, we prioritise the smooth and silent movement of the rollers within the tracks, a result of extensive field and laboratory testing that reflects our dedication to excellence.

The side roller hinges are identical to those found on industrial doors, engineered to endure significantly greater forces than typical residential applications. This durability ensures that our sectional doors have an extended lifespan. Our track systems are fully bolted, and the thickness of the steel used guarantees that the quality you expect in your home is built for reliable performance and pride.

Coated Tracks and Hardware

For an added touch of aesthetic luxury, SSS offers options that perfectly complement the interior colour of your design. As an optional enhancement, we can powder coat and colour match the tracks using our unique IGP-Powder Coating System.

Additionally, you can choose to have the hardware finished in white. This coating not only enhances the appearance but also protects the metal components from corrosion caused by moisture and extreme weather conditions.

Black Powder Coating on Hardware

Aluminium Frame

SSS Industrial Doors offer a versatile aluminium frame that serves as an excellent alternative to timber. This design ensures precise positioning of the sectional door frame when installation within the aperture is necessary.

The aluminium frame comes with a two-part vertical frame section along with a connecting header section, and it can be colour-matched to create a cohesive look with the door leaf.

In summary, this solution delivers style, strength, and appealing aesthetics.

Profile Systems

SSS Sectional Garage Doors can be equipped with a unique profile system, specifically designed for SSS Industrial Doors. This system ensures a flawless finish for doors installed within the aperture, enhancing the overall look and design of your garage door.

The innovative profile system allows for the installation of a sectional garage door in any garage aperture, regardless of building quality. This means that even garages lacking side clearances or lintels can be effortlessly adapted for a new sectional door.

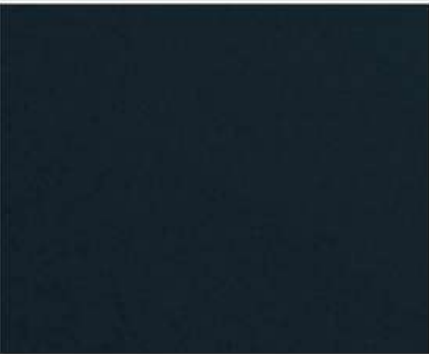

Elevate both the functionality and aesthetics of your garage with our custom and distinctive profile system!
